

Permission to Appeal results – JCPC NOVEMBER 2017

Case name	Justices	PTA	Reasons given
Singh (Appellant) v Soogrim (Respondent) (Trinidad and Tobago) JCPC 2017/0052	Lady Hale Lord Reed Lady Black	Refused 6 Nov 2017	Permission to appeal be refused because the application does not raise an arguable point of law.
Modaykhan and others (Appellants) v State Bank of Mauritius and others (Respondents) (Mauritius) JCPC 2017/0039	Lord Mance Lord Hughes Lord Briggs	Refused 6 Nov 2017	Permission to appeal be refused because the application does not raise an arguable point of law of general public importance.
Rain Forest Resorts Ltd (Appellant) v National Gas Company of Trinidad and Tobago (Respondent) (Trinidad and Tobago) JCPC 2017/0055	Lord Mance Lord Hughes Lord Briggs	Refused 6 Nov 2017	Permission to appeal be refused because the application does not raise an arguable point of law of general public importance.
Super Industrial Services Ltd (Appellant) and another v National Gas Company of Trinidad and Tobago (Respondent) (Trinidad and Tobago) JCPC 2017/0057
In the following cases, the advice which the Board proposes to give to Her Majesty is as indicated below
Deon and Associates Ltd (Appellant) v Prentice (Respondent) (St Christopher and Nevis) JCPC 2017/0031	Lord Mance Lord Hughes Lord Briggs	Refused 15 Nov 2017	The application for permission to appeal should be refused because the application does not raise an arguable point of law of general public importance.
Bermuda Industrial Union and Another (Appellants) v Minister of Home Affairs (Respondent) JCPC 2017/0026	Lord Kerr Lord Carnwath Lord Lloyd-Jones	Refused 15 Nov 2017	Permission to appeal should be refused because the application does not raise an arguable point of law of general public importance which ought to be considered by the Judicial Committee at this time.
Causwell (Respondent) v The General Legal Council (Ex Parte Elizabeth Hartley) (Appellant) (Jamaica) JCPC 2017/0037	Lord Kerr Lord Carnwath Lord Lloyd-Jones	Granted 15 Nov 2017
Brown and another (Appellants) v Jamaica National Building Society (Respondent) (Jamaica) JCPC 2017/0030	Lord Kerr Lord Carnwath Lord Lloyd-Jones	Refused 15 Nov 2017	Permission to appeal should be refused because it does not raise an arguable point of law of general public importance which ought to be considered by the Judicial Committee at this time.